Unit 7 – A Relative clauses
A class by Mr. Jean Paul Quiñonez
Who, which, that

- I’m interested in working with people who are reliable and hardworking.

  It’s describing the characteristics of people

- My father uses computers which have 8 gb of RAM memory and 1 tb.

  It’s describing the characteristic of computers

- There are people that have big houses that have plenty of rooms

  We use relative clauses to explain ideas for people or things
Subject relative clauses

For people

- My father has friends who/that have very good manners.

- There aren’t many politicians who/that are honest.

- There have been teachers who/that have left their print in life.

Who = that
Who is more common for people
For things

- In this city there are houses which/that have swimming pools.

- We love books which/that are historic or documental.

- Planes which/that are big can transport hundreds of people.

Who = that
That is more common for things
Object relative clauses

For people

- Luis is a manager who/that everyone in the company can trust.

  Everyone in the company can trust Luis.

- My parents are people who/that our neighbors love a lot.

  Our neighbors love my parents.

Who = that
Who is the object of the verb
For things

- Libraries are places which/that we go to in order to find information.

  We go to libraries to find information.

- Soccer is a sport which/that thousands of people around the world love to play and watch

  Thousands of people love to play and watch soccer.

Who = that
That is the object of the verb
For object clauses

- Those are children who we love teaching.
- Those are children we love teaching.

- English is a language that most people use for business.
- English is a language most people use for business.
Thank you